Which Dash Into Bay, Drop Bombs

More Than 100 Wounded by von Hindenburg's Aviators-Zeppelin Bombards City of Nancy; Takes Lives of Two Citizens. Berlin, Dec. 26 (by wireless via Sayville, N. Y.) .- The German

Admiralty made the following announcement to-day: "On December 25, eight British ships made a dash into a German bay. Hydro-aeroplanes conveyed by them made an advance against the mouths of German rivers, and dropped bombs on ships lying at anchor and a gas tank near Cuxhaven, without hitting them or doing damage

"The hydro-aeroplanes were fired at and withdrew in a westerly direction. German airships and aeroplanes reconnoitred against the British forces and succeeded in hitting with bombs two British destroyers and one other vessel of the convoy. On the latter, fire broke out. "Fog prevented a continuation of the fighting."

(The announcement by the German Admiralty of an attempt by the British warships against the German coast is the first intimation of what appears to be a reply to the recent attack by German cruisers against the English seaports of Scarborough, Whitby and Hartlepool, the British au thorities having as yet made no mention of this operation

From the reference to Cuxhaven in the German announcement, it would seem that the German rivers indicated, but not named, were the Elbe and Weser. Cuxhaven is a fortified seaport of Germany, fifty-eight miles west-northwest of Hamburg. It is at the mouth of the estuary of the Elbe. The approximate distance across the North Sea from the English coast to Cuxhaven is 360 miles.)

marines on Pola is confirmed. It appears that in the course of the operations the Curie was sent to the bottom while making an attempt to force an entrance to the port for the purpose of torpedoing the squadron at anchor there, and the Curie succeeded in penetrating quite to the harbor bar.

"Then she collided with a steel net nixed across the entrance. When her care endeavored to recede they were discovered by Austrian merchantmen, which immediately gave the alarm. The fortis then opened fire. Two cannon shots struck the Curie, which gradually sank. The captain and all the crew, with the exception of one officer, had time to swim clear, and they are now prisoners."
